

Steven B Kailes, MD, MPH, FACEP

President-Elect and past-chair of the Governmental Affairs Committee, Florida College of Emergency Physicians.

A graduate of Tufts University School of Medicine and subsequent training in emergency medicine at the Naval Medical Center, San Diego, California. Spent nine years on active duty service in the United States Navy, with deployments to Asia with the 31st Marine Expeditionary Unit and to Iraq with the 2nd Marine Logistics Group in support of Operation Enduring Freedom. Practices Emergency Medicine in the greater Jacksonville, FL, area since leaving the Navy in 2007. Currently a staff emergency physician with Emergency Resources Group at area Baptist Medical Center emergency departments