

Heather Godale, MD, FACEP

Emergency Medicine Physicians (EMP)

Heather Godale, MD, FACEP, is currently employed by Emergency Medicine Physicians (EMP) and is a staff physician with the Lake Health System near Cleveland, OH. She has been with EMP since 2006. Most recently, she was the medical director for StatDoctors. StatDoctors was a telemedicine company that provided virtual mobile health consultations 24/7 for acute and urgent complaints. She successfully led her team of physicians and helped develop StatDoctors training modules, staffing strategies, and development of StatDoctors proprietary EMR and physician portal. StatDoctors was an industry leader in door to doctor time as well as video utilization. StatDoctors was acquired by Teledoc in June of 2015.

Dr. Godale was accepted into the combined six year BS/MD program at NEOMED upon graduating from High School. She attended Youngstown State University followed by the Northeastern Ohio's University College of Medicine. Dr. Godale received her Bachelors of Combined Science and her medical degree in May of 2003. She completed her emergency medicine residency at Akron General Medical Center in Akron, OH in June of 2006.

Dr. Godale is board certified in emergency medicine. She is a Fellow in the American College of Emergency Physicians.

She currently resides in Aurora, OH with her husband and 2 children.