

Mark Owen:

Mark Owen has been with PayorLogic as the Director of the Division of Emergency Medicine since October of 2014. Mark currently holds the EDPMA board seat for PayorLogic. Mark also started an emergency medicine coding company in December 2015. For three years ending in June of 2014 Mark served as Sr. Vice President, at Nicka and Associates. While with Nicka and Associates Mark was involved in coding audits: internal, external and third party audits. Between 2006 and 2011, Mark was with Emergency Groups' Office (EGO). During this time Mark was part of the audit response team. Mark also directed the EGO third party appeals department coordinating hundreds of appeals each month.

Mark has over thirty years experience in Emergency Physician billing providing administrative, management, and compliance assistance to over fifteen different organizations. Mark's past experience developing and administering third party billing compliance programs required extensive knowledge of Medicare Part B and third party payer guidelines and regulations. Mark's familiarity with the Medicare Carriers Manual and other third party coding and billing guidelines forms the underpinning in Mark's role of compliance officer and practice management consultant.

In the past fifteen years, Mark's responsibilities have varied significantly. Mark was responsible for development, implementation, and oversight of a physician billing compliance program at one of the largest E.D. billing companies in the nation. Mark served as the first compliance officer of the Physician Services Division of a large public company specializing in hospital-based physician billing. Mark was the first compliance officer at A-Life Medical a natural language processing coding assist application.
