

Mark Plaster, M.D.

Emergency Physicians Monthly 1992 – Present (22 years)
Founder and Executive Editor

Emergency Physicians Monthly (EPM) is the independent publication for emergency physicians, written by and for the docs in the trenches. EPM takes the volumes of information being published each month in journals and online and distills it for practicing physicians in a way that can be applied in the next shift. EPM circulates to nearly 40,000 emergency personnel, the largest circulation in the market.

Plaster Publishing 1992 – Present (22 years)
Founder and Author

Emergency Physician January 1979 – Present (35 years +)
many locations around the world

Author of "Night Shift; Stories from the Life of an ER Doc"

Mark Plaster, M.D. is a board certified emergency medicine physician with 30 years experience. He is the founder and executive editor of Emergency Physicians Monthly, the largest and most widely read publication for emergency physicians.

Dr. Plaster is a Commander in the US Navy Reserve with two combat tours in Iraq (2003 and 2008) as the Officer in Charge and Senior Medical Officer of a Marine Corps Shock Trauma Platoon. Dr. Plaster was awarded the Fleet Marine Force warfare qualification. As a civilian he has served on medical outreach trips to Peru, Brazil, Vietnam, Haiti, Sudan, Kenya, Ukraine, and the Republic of Georgia.

In 2013, Dr Plaster published his book of short stories, "Night Shift: Stories from the Life of an ER Doc."